One flight of MIGs bored in on a mission of slower F105 Thunderchiefs bombing the Quang Kien rail causeway 39 miles northeast of Hanoi. The MIGs shot down one Thunderchief and the pilot was missing. No further details of the dogfight were announced by the Air Force.

The Thunderchief was the 695th U.S. combat plane lost over the North and the 26th shot down by MIGs. American pilots are credited with 85 MIG kills and another 12 probabilities.

Air Force pilots also said they caught about 25 boxcars jammed in the Yen Bai yards on the northwest rail line. They reported heavy explosions in the middle of the concentration before the target was obscured by smoke and dust.

The heaviest ground activity was reported in the 1st Corps area just below the DMZ. The U.S. Marines said they were establishing a new regimental-size fortress above the northernmost provincial capital of Quang Tri City.

Unbuckled Belt Leads to His Death

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Passengers aboard an airliner that plunged 10,000 feet in a down draft said Ricardo Castro Beeche, prominent Latin American newspaper publisher and former Costa Rican ambassador to the United States, was killed because his seat belt was not fastened.

Survivors said the safety belts saved their lives. Another passenger who did not buckle his belt, Claudio Loria Montenegro, was killed and a number of others, including Castro Beeche's daughter, Rosy Castro Canas, were injured.

The LASCA Airlines British twin-jet was approaching Grand Cayman Island, 190 miles northwest of Jamaica, Monday when it hit a down draft while 29,000 feet up, according to the airline.

"A storm broke out and the seat belt signs flashed on and five minutes later we went straight down and everything flew to the roof," said Julio Brenes of Costa Rica. "Whisky bottles, magazines and luggage fell all over," said Dr. Manuel Ibanez, a 32-year-old biology professor at Louisiana State University. "I thought it was a hell of a way to cash in my chips after spending the summer in the Amazon."

"There were four drops for a total of 2 1/2 minutes."

But the two pilots were able to keep the plane flying and it landed in Grand Cayman.

Twelve of the uninjured survivors were flown to Miami, while the injured and the two bodies were flown to Costa Rica. Those arriving in Miami praised the two pilots, George Paris and Arturo Lutz.

Castro Beeche, 73, was editor and publisher of the San Jose newspaper La Nacion. He was en route to San Juan, Puerto Rico, for a meeting of the Inter-American Press Association. He was its president in 1960-61.

Catts House, the Blacksmith Shop, the Gun Museum and the Tavern. Of particular interest this year, will be the Carland House, so named for it was from this home that Augustus H. Carland took the daughter, Virginia Sanders, as his bride in 1853. Here he lived until duties pertaining to the Civil War called him away.

The house, with original siding, floors, and mill work, is elegantly furnished with period furniture, some of which was Carland's, personally. Other outstanding pieces are: the dainty Chickering Piano, marked Early Chinese Chippendale Parlor Furniture, Sofa and Chair which were used in Governor Flanigan's home during the period when he served as chief executive of Arkansas with his capitol at Washington, and a life-size portrait of Mrs. Carland, painted by the famous Ulke, Washington, D.C. in 1878.

In cooperation with the Foundation, and under the direction of Mrs. Earl O'Neal of Hope, the Methodist Church will hold Open House each day of the show. Four different type displays will be featured. Mrs. W. A. Woodward of Magnolia will serve as hostess on Saturday, 21, Reverend Joe Jones and Reverend Mr. Eason of Hope will provide for Sunday, and on Monday, Mrs. Paul V. mony on the state level and harm the Republicans' chances for bigger election triumphs next year in Arkansas.

That's why Rockefeller said last April that he would be a favorite son candidate "if it serves the interests" of the Republican party in Arkansas. Last month, the state executive committee recommended that the Arkansas delegation go to the 1968 convention committed only to Rockefeller's favorite son candidacy.

"It would give our delegation time to review the candidates right up to the convention floor," the governor said.

"We are working so hard to try to get more Republicans to run for state and local races next year and my feeling is that we might lose some of our enthusiasm if our fervor were directed at the presidential race," Pollard said.

"I personally feel, too, that too many persons, especially people who were delegates to the 1964 convention, made up their minds entirely too soon and got committed to Mr. Goldwater and brought about some hard feelings and possibly his defeat."

Mrs. McGillicuddy, Rockefeller and Pollard said the man who might look like a winner now might not be at convention time. Pollard, however, ventured that Nixon and Reagan would have the best chance in Arkansas.

Mrs. McGillicuddy said she had talked to many persons who thought a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket would be best.

"The Republican party is blessed with the finest candidates at this time than at any other time in my lifetime," she said. "Johnson is defeating himself every day and I think the Republican party has a great opportunity to win."

Rockefeller said all the figures mentioned prominently in presidential speculation are "fine men, although some have broader and longer experience than others."

Pollard said it was possible the ticket would be strengthened if the second man would appeal to those votes that former Alabama Gov. George Wallace could be expected to take away from the Republican party.

"I don't think Wallace has a Chinaman's chance, but he would hurt the Republican nominee," he said, but declined to say who he thought could take the Wallace votes.

Fireproof Carriers Sought

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy panel formed after a disastrous aircraft carrier fire has found many safety measures lag behind the times and tempo of operations.

Adm. James S. Russell, head of the panel, suggested a number of improvements even before his group's final report is forwarded later this month to Navy chiefs, sources report.

The improvements include installing additional firefighting and damage control equipment as well as changes in its design and location aboard the ships.

Russell also proposed that safety instructions be spelled out clearly in booklets for the crews.

The Russell panel was created in August soon after 131 Navy men died in a fire that almost gutted the carrier Forrestal standing off North Vietnam. Russell came out of retirement temporarily to handle the job.

Sources familiar with the group's preliminary findings said the Russell panel concluded that many safety measures on the carriers were based on the experience of World War II.

These days, carriers are on station longer than formerly and conduct more sustained operations.

The safety precautions have not kept up with the pace of operations and the times, sources said the Russell group found.

The panel leader has told his superiors he was impressed with the level of experience of commanding officers and command pilots, that key officers were well-chosen, and that the deck crews were well-motivated, even though they work as much as 15 hours a day.

In response to inquiries, the Navy said: "There are some areas where improved techniques and operations can be inaugurated at the local level."

"These center primarily around a revitalization of damage control techniques, weapons handling and storage, and training of personnel."

Sources said the Russell group—which visited the carriers Constellation, Intrepid, Coral Sea, and Oriskany—felt there was a tendency toward haste by crewmen under pressure, particularly when—as happens off North Vietnam—there are frequent aircraft takeoffs and landings 12 hours a day, every day of the week.

This kind of pressure, it was said, results in attempted shortcuts, with resultant increased chances of accidents.

It was said normal dangers are magnified by the tremendous amount of ammunition being handled in connection with preparations for air strikes.

It was found that, in some cases, safety devices tend to get rusty, worn or lost.

Money on Both Sides Gaming Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock, one of the sponsors of the bill which would legalize gambling in Hot Springs, said Monday he was informed that money was available to a legislator whether he voted for or against the bill.

"I heard Las Vegas money was in on the deal for those who voted against it," Alagood told a Little Rock civic club. Both houses of the General Assembly passed the bill but Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller vetoed it.

State Rep. Gayle Windsor of Little Rock said after the bill was passed that he was offered $1,000 to vote for it. Windsor was absent from the floor because of illness when the House voted on the bill.

State Rep. Bill D. Wells of Hermitage, who voted against the bill, said he had been offered "a financial inducement" to vote for the measure.

Alagood also said that an "extremely high official" of the state told him several days before the legislature convened that what he would like to see "for the sake of the tourism was legalized gambling in Hot Springs . . . which he described as a 'Mecca to itself.'"

He congratulated State Police Director Lynn A. Davis for his efforts to eliminate gambling but said the credit for a gambling crackdown should go to the legislators.

Driftwood's 2 Sons Are Found Dead

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP) — The results of an autopsy on the bodies of the two sons of famous folkwestern singer Jimmie Driftwood are expected today and it is hoped that they will shed some light on the shooting deaths of the two men.

The bodies of James Risner Morris, 27, and Bing Lee Morris, 24, were found Monday at the family home at Timbo, 13 miles west of here. The autopsy was to be performed at Little Rock.

Stone County Sheriff Charles Rosa said the bodies were about 20 feet apart. He said a rifle and a shotgun were found in the home and that both had been fired. Rosa said he had not decided whether the shooting was murder and suicide or murder.

Authorities said Driftwood's wife found the bodies about 4 p.m. after returning home from Mountain View where she teaches school. Driftwood, who wrote the hit song "The Battle of New Orleans," was notified of the tragedy at Brussels, Belgium. He is reportedly on his way home. He is in Europe on a two-week tour to promote travel in the South. The tour is being conducted by the Southern Travelers Council. Driftwood is his professional name. The family's real name is Morris.

Artificial Sweeteners Ruled Safe

By FRANK CAREY AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration, responding to inquiries it said came from some consumers says there is no scientific evidence to show widely used artificial sweeteners are a hazard to health.

However, the FDA said studies of the chemicals are continuing in the United States and abroad.

"If at any time the scientific evidence shows some basis for restricting the use of artificial sweeteners, the FDA has the authority" to take action the agency said.

The FDA made the statements in an apparently little-publicized "Fact Sheet" which an agency spokesman said was prepared early last month because of inquiries.

The question of safety "is asked with increasing frequency as beverages and food products sweetened with sugar substitutes multiply on supermarket shelves," the sheet said.

"Articles in newspapers and periodicals citing possible dangers related to the artificial sweeteners also contribute to the concern on the part of consumers."

The publication added: "The safety of artificial sweeteners—saccharines and cyclamates—has been reviewed periodically for more than a decade.

"As is true of a wide array of other food additives developed by industry, the artificial sweeteners have undergone extensive toxicity testing in past years. They are listed among the additives 'generally recognized as safe' by scientists in and out of the FDA.

"The new factor, of course, is the vast increase in the use of the artificial sweeteners, particularly the cyclamates. When first introduced, artificial sweeteners were used primarily in the diets of diabetics. "Now, cyclamates are used as sugar substitutes in many soft drinks, desserts, and a variety of other products being promoted for low calories content to a weight-conscious society. Not only those with special diet needs, but many normal, healthy people, including children, are eating and drinking artificially sweetened products."

Monumental Coffee Break at Vatican

By GERALD MILLER Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A cardinal's silver bell in the Vatican at 10:30 every morning opens one of the world's most unusual coffee breaks.

Bearded patriarchs and red-shaven prelates file eagerly out of the meeting of the Roman Catholic synod of the bishops for one of the assembly's biggest successes.

In an adjacent room, waiters have arranged three large tables and a machine that makes steaming cups of espresso. Amid animated conversation, the bishops nibble on sugared pastry and wash it down with coffee, tea, milk, soft drinks or fruit juice. Nothing alcoholic is served.

The prelates can also light up cigarettes, cigars or pipes. Smoking is banned inside the meeting room.

The half-hour coffee break is an important part of the synod for several reasons.

While cooling off or warming up the bishops, it also works for complete concentration in the synod room when business is being discussed.

During the 1962-65 ecumenical council in St. Peter's basilica, there were two bars but no scheduled break. As a result, bishops constantly streamed out for something to drink or eat, and there were some complaints that this caused disruption.

The synod's coffee break also sets a mood of comradery and informality which many say is important for the historic meeting.

The bishops may differ on pressing church problems like night and day in the synod room. But the cutting edge of debate loses its sharpness when they mingle and chat about everything from the weather to a particularly interesting point in a speech they have just heard.

The synod bar—as Italians call coffee shops—has given Pope Paul VI an opportunity to stress his close relationship with bishops in a collegial atmosphere. During the coffee break at the synod's first working session Sept. 30, the Pope circulated among the bishops for the full half hour.

Dear Helen: When the kids first talked about "Stamp Out Stead-ing" I was dead set against it. But four months later I'm all for it!

Dear Helen: When the kids first I was dead set against it. But four months later I'm all for it! I went steady with a boy for six months. At first it was wonderful. I had the boy all the other girls wanted, all for myself. Then he got possessive—I was not suppose to be interested in anything but him. And I got jealous everytime he kidded around with another girl. We both expected much too much of each other, but resented those feelings on the other too. After much pain, I finally woke up. I broke up with him about three weeks ago, and the first week was miserable. I'll be honest, I was afraid to be date less on Saturday nights. But the second week I discovered all the fun I'd been missing, and the third week was a ball.

Just think: kidding around with the fellow; having a choice of who I go out with; not being tied down; being able to change my mind about liking a boy without the big renunciation scene.

I still date my ex-steady occasionally, but now he doesn't expect too much. He doesn't have a hundred hands anymore, with the excuse, "Well we're going steady, why not?"

Helen, I'm your number fan for "Stamp Out Stead-ing." FREE AND HAPPY

Dear Helen: I met a very nice boy two years ago, but I can't get it across I do not like him that well, I would love to be just friends, but he's very touchy and also persistent. He is with me so much that the other boys do not even try.

During high school I want to shop around and not be tied down. How can I shake a leg without putting a bruise on it? —STUCK

Alcohol Test Irks British Motorists

LONDON (AP) — Curbside breath tests to catch drunken drivers began today amid complaints from British motoring organizations and reports from bar owners of a sharp drop in business.

The tests were pushed by Transport Minister Barbara Castle, who had already irked drivers by clamping a 70-mile-an-hour speed limit on the nation's previously unrestricted highways. Mrs. Castle does not drive.

London police with "breathalyzers," plastic bags containing chemical crystals that change color when exposed to alcohol fumes, made their first test in front of Buckingham Palace, the Queen's home. The driver passed and was let go.

But for three of 13 other drivers who were stopped and asked to breathe into the bags during the night, the devices gave readings of more than 80 milligrams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

Under the new law, this means a trip to the police station for a blood or urine test. A too-high reading in these tests can be used as evidence in court.

Bars in many parts of Britain reported a sharp drop in business Sunday night. Traffic in London's normally busy West End nearly disappeared.

Cards Need to Drive Just "27 Nails"

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals still have to drive 27 nails.

Manager Dick Williams of Boston said it before Monday's game, and the statement was still pertinent after the Red Sox defeated the Cardinals 3-1 in St. Louis and sliced their World Series deficit to three games to two.

The Cardinals got the 27 outs they needed, but in between some of them the Red Sox scored three runs and that was all Jim Lonborg needed.

Lonborg, the prime candidate for the American League's Cy Young Award, missed matching his second-game shutout when Roger Maris homered with two out in the ninth inning.

He still wound up with a three-hitter and a record for allowing the fewest hits in two consecutive Series games. He stopped the Cardinals on one hit last Thursday.

Now it's up to Gary Waslewski, a 26-year-old right-hander, to keep the Series alive for Lonborg to come back in the seventh game. When the teams resume here Wednesday, Waslewski will be opposed by Dick Hughes, the loser in Lonborg's first victory.

Any postponements because of rain might entice Williams to switch to Lonborg for the sixth game, but right now the man is Waslewski, who pitched three perfect innings of relief in the third game. He was 2-2 during the season.

Lonborg, who previously this year has pitched with just two days rest twice, isn't afraid of the seventh game, in which he would tangle with Bob Gibson, St. Louis' two-game winner.

"I can go in the seventh game," he said while treating his precious right arm with ice. "The body needs the rest, but the mind can come back. The mind can do wonderful things. It really can get you up."

"I think the fact that they beat us two in a row put some doubts in our mind, but this game reaffirms our belief that we can beat them."

So far, however, only Lonborg has been able to beat them. The 24-year-old right-hander never was in trouble Monday, and after the Red Sox picked up a pair of runs in the top of the ninth even Maris' homer didn't bother him.

The only other hits he allowed were singles by Dal Maxvill in the third and Maris in the fourth.

Hughes to Go for St. Louis Wednesday

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Dick Hughes is going to keep his pitches "high and tight, low and away" when he starts against the Boston Red Sox Wednesday and Boston Manager Dick Williams is going to keep the St. Louis Cardinals in suspense with a new starting pitcher — Gary Waslewski.

Both managers named the starting pitchers for the sixth game after Jim Lonborg sent the Series back to Boston with a 3-1 victory Monday in St. Louis. It was the second victory in the Series for the 6-foot-5 right-hander.

The Cardinal dressing room was subdued, but not concerned. Julian Javier, who made another spectacular play at second base to match his gem in the second game, summed up the Cardinals' feelings.

"We're going to beat them there (in Boston)," he predicted. "We still have the hammer and we're still in front." The Cardinals still have a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 series.

Carl Yastrzemski, the Boston left fielder, said, "They're going to know they've been in a fight." And despite the Cardinal lead he said the pressure is now on the Cardinals.

"You can bet they're thinking about the last two games in Fenway Park," Yaz commented. "Yeah, we're going back to that Green Monster — the left field wall."

And Boston second baseman Mike Andrews found a parallel between the Series and Boston's fairy tale finish in the American League. Boston beat the favored Minnesota Twins in the last two games of the regular season to win the pennant.

"It's the same situation as against Minnesota, when we had to win two for the pennant," he said.

"Now we'll have our home fans rooting for us. We've had our backs to the wall all season and I guess you might say that this is the way it should be. Things don't come easy for us."

Manager Dick Williams said rookie right-hander Waslewski would be Boston's starter. During the regular season Waslewski had started only eight games and had a 2-2 record. The Cardinals saw Waslewski for three innings in Saturday's game. He didn't give up a hit and struck out three.

Red Schoendienst said Hughes would pitch Wednesday and Bob Gibson Thursday, if necessary. Hughes was beaten by Lonborg with a one-hitter last Thursday.

Gil Hodges May Lead the Mets

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Mets, shopping for a new manager, have received the Washington Senators' permission to negotiate with Gil Hodges, but more than that the principals aren't saying.

Hodges, former Brooklyn Dodger star who managed the wsenators to an encouraging tie for sixth place in the American League this season, still has a year left on his Washington contract, but Mets' president Bing Devine is expected to try to lure him back to New York.

Hodges has been prominently mentioned as a likely candidate to replace Wes Westrum, who resigned shortly before the season ended, but so far the Mets have denied they have talked with him.

Now that the Senators have given the go-ahead, Devine will probably make Hodges an offer soon, but Hodges was unavailable for comment.

Lonborg in Second Win Over Cards

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Jim Lonborg, who once aspired to be a doctor, deserves at least an honorary spot in the college of surgeons because of the way he operates on the pitching mound. Lonborg, a 24-year-old Stanford University graduate with a degree in biology, gambled on a baseball career in giving up medical plans while in college. Now he's wielding a different type of scalpel for the Boston Red Sox.

The 6-foot-5 right-hander saved the Red Sox once again Monday as he sent the 64th World Series back to Boston with a brilliant three-hit, 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, who failed in a bid to end the fall classic with a three-game sweep at home.

"I never think winning is impossible," Lonborg said—and the Cardinals probably have to admit beating him just about is.

Gentleman Jim, who discards the tag once he takes the mound, stuck to business in the Series' fifth game. In a one-hit masterpiece in the second game, he brushed back a couple of Cardinals. And during the regular season he hit 19 batters, not all intentionally.

"When I'm hitting the corners on the outside, there's no need to go inside," Lonborg said matter-of-factly.

"I went more to the fast ball today," he said. "I was hitting spots, the outside corners. When they started getting a good rip at the pitch away, I went to the breaking ball."

"Even when I got behind, I felt I could challenge them and come right down the middle. This is a big ball park so they can hit it and there's still room for someone to catch it."

Lonborg didn't let his outfielders get too busy, though. The Cardinals managed to loft only five balls past the Boston infield. Three went for fairly routine putouts, one was Roger Maris' line single in the fourth and the last Maris' two-out homer in the ninth.

Lonborg, who lost a no-hit bid on Julian Javier's eighth inning single in Boston last Thursday, wasn't disturbed by Maris' clout, which just cleared the wall in right near the foul line, 330 feet from the plate.

"With a 3-0 lead, I didn't care about the shutout," Lonborg said. "I just wanted to get the game over. He hit a change-up, down and in. I don't know how he hit it."

Lonborg, suffering from a slight cold, watched the television program "Mission Impossible" before hitting the sack Sunday night. Then he coolly went out and did what many St. Louis rooters thought was impossible — stopping the Cards a second straight time.

Ricky Barry Welcomes 2nd Cage League

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Rick Barry, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer last season and now affiliated with the new American Basketball Association, said Monday "it's been unfair to the players to have only one pro league."

"People misunderstand about the NBA," said the former San Francisco Warrior now under contract to the Oakland Oaks. "Only a few young players make the NBA each year. There are few opportunities, and it's just tough to make a team or even improve."

Barry said players coming out of college now have better chances for making a name and money in the new league.

While Barry was in Indianapolis, the Indiana Pacers announced they would be hosts for the first ABA All-Star Game in January. The tentative date is Jan. 9, either in the State Fairgrounds Coliseum (10,000 capacity) where the Pacers play their home games or Butler University's Hinkle Fieldhouse (14,000).

After Barry switched to the Oaks, San Francisco owner Franklin Mielul gained a court injunction barring the superstar from playing in the ABA this season. Barry is sitting out the season rather than play with the Warriors.

Explaining his move, Barry said, "I love the game, but it's business to me. The basic reason I changed was financial—that and my father-in-law, former Miami Coach Bruce Hale, who now is directing the Oaks."

Series Shows Your Guess Is Gamble

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — If only Red Schoendienst had known Roger Maris was going to hit a homer with two out in the ninth, he wouldn't have lifted Steve Carlton for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning of Monday's fifth World Series game.

As Schoendienst hardly could expect a home run off Jim Lonborg, who had shut out his St. Louis Cardinals with one hit Thursday and threatened to blank them again Monday, any second guessing has to be purely academic.

There were some eyebrows lifted in the press coop when Schoendienst sent up Bob Tolan to bat for Carlton leading off the sixth. The Cards trailed only 1-0 at the time and the one run off 22-year-old Carlton had been unearned.

"We had to try to get a run," said Schoendienst. "Carlton still was real strong."

Tolan struck out and the Cards never did get their run until two were out in the ninth. By that time they were trailing 3-0.

The young lefty yielded the unearned run in the third after Joe Foy singled and Mike Shannon fumbled Mike Andrews' sacrifice bunt. He blew a third called strike past Carl Yastrzemski but yielded a run-scoring single by Ken Harrelson.

Boston put it away in the ninth when Ron Willis, third Card pitcher, loaded the bases on a walk to George Scott, a double by Reggie Smith and an intentional pass to him. Petrocelli.

After throwing one ball to Elston Howard, Willis was replaced by Jack Lamabe. Howard singled down the line in right, scoring Scott. Maris hurried throw to the plate was high for an error, permitting Smith to also score.

Southern Cal and Purdue Top Grid List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern California, with a strengthened grip on the top spot in The Associated Press football poll, faces perhaps the toughest opponent on its schedule Saturday, playing Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.

The Trojans, who received 36 of the 46 first-place votes from a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters, held a safe margin over second-place Purdue, which received 10 first-place votes while North Carolina State got four.

Southern Cal had 462 votes to Purdue's 385. Notre Dame rose from seventh last week to fifth with a 56-6 pounding of Iowa, setting up the big battle this Saturday.

Purdue, rising from fourth to second with its victory over Northwestern, faces Ohio State, 1-1, this week. Georgia, moving up from fifth to third by beating South Carolina, meets Mississippi, 1-2.

UCLA, scared by Penn State before winning 17-15, fell from third to fourth in the balloting. The Bruins meet Pacific Eight opponent California, 3-1, Saturday.

Colorado, moving up from eighth to sixth by beating Iowa State 34-0, faces a major test Saturday when it meets Missouri, which got strong honorable-mention support in the poll. The Tigers are unbeaten with three victories.

Alabama, rising from ninth to seventh by beating Mississippi 21-7, meets Vanderbilt, 2-1. Nebraska, down from seventh to eighth after a close victory over Kansas State, meets winless Kansas.

Ninth-rated North Carolina State, flush with its victory over Houston, meets Maryland, 0-2, while Houston, down from second to 10th after losing its idle.

Baylor Poses Problems for Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Monday the Razorbacks would have to adjust both their offense and their defense before playing Baylor Saturday at Waco, Tex.

"We got a look at the wide-tackle six defense which Baylor uses," Broyles said after Monday's 30-minute workout. "We're trying to adjust our offense."

"Baylor uses the spread formation on offense and we expect them to throw a lot of dropback passes," Broyles said. "Most of the passes we've seen this season have been rollouts so we will have to do a lot of work here."

Broyles also said that strong-side guard Jim Barnes of Pine Bluff was the only Razorback injured in last week's 20-0 victory over TCU. Broyles said Barnes reinjured a hamstring muscle.

"Barnes is a good football player and we need him," Broyles said. "He should be back by Wednesday." Barnes and tackle Ernie Ruple delivered key blocks on both of Arkansas' first half touchdowns against TCU.

Hall and Ft. Smith Top High Schools

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fort Smith Northside is still in second place in the Associated Press Arkansas High School Football Poll but the Grizzlies will have ample opportunity to take over the top spot.

The Grizzlies finished one point behind Little Rock Hall although both teams drew five first place votes.

Northside, an impressive 27-7 winner over Little Rock Central, plays Hot Springs this week. The Grizzlies then face the only other two undefeated AAA teams in the state—Texarkana Oct. 20 at Texarkana and Little Rock Hall, Oct. 27 at Little Rock.

The Warriors defeated Little Rock Horace Mann 48-0 last week and have allowed only one touchdown in five games.

Third-ranked Texarkana won its fifth straight last week, defeating Hot Springs.

Little Rock Central dropped one notch to fifth after its loss to Northside, North Little Rock, No. 5 last week, moved up to No. 4.

Springdale, which romped over Siloam Springs, moved up from seventh to sixth, replacing Pine Bluff. The Zebras were upset by El Dorado and fell to tenth place. El Dorado moved into the ninth spot.

Conway jumped from eighth to seventh and Sheridan, another Class AA team, took over the eighth spot. It is the first time this season that the Yellowjackets, winners of 20 straight, have been ranked.

Conway garnered all but one of the first place votes and continues to dominate the Class AA rankings. Sheridan is second followed by once-tied Forrest City.

Hamburg, which defeated previously unbeaten Star City last week, took over the top spot in Class A. The Lions were second in the rankings last week behind Fordyce. Fordyce fell to third and Brinkley moved from third to second.

Stamps continues to top the Class B poll. Gillett, unbeaten and unscored on, moved from third to second and Rison fell from second to third.

College Allows Beer on Campus

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Wheeling College is experimenting with allowing the sale and consumption of beer on campus, and is the only college in West Virginia doing so.

The Rev. William McGroarty, dean of the college, said Wednesday there "is a long-standing accepted tradition that college students do drink beer."

Golf Courses Need Shakeup, Say 2 Stars

LONDON (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Gary Player came to town today and while they might disagree on which of their sweaters, shoes and clubs are better, these two giants of the game agreed on one thing:

Golf courses have to undergo a change.

Player and Palmer converged on London to compete in the fourth renewal of the Piccadilly World Match Play championship.

Straight from Tokyo and Italy and France, the two champions meet head on at Wentworth starting Thursday in the eight-man invitation tournament which has become one of the great title play competitions left to those who believe in match as against medal play.

Said Player: "The architects, especially in the United States, have to stop building courses so long. It's not necessary. People play golf to enjoy it and they should be allowed to enjoy it. It's all right for me no matter how long they are but we are talking about those who play the game for pleasure."

Said Palmer: "Golf courses are arranged for the professional to beat them. He should beat par. The scratch player should equal it. That's the way I see it."

Meanwhile Gary Player, reigning U.S. Masters champion from Dallas, pocketed a first prize of $55,000 in the Alcan Golfer of the Year Tournament at St. Andrews. He beat Billy Casper, former U.S. Open champion, by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff and then caught a plane to try and win the Match Play championship at Wentworth.

Casper, who won $15,000, also left Scotland to play at Wentworth.

3rd Playoff for Casper in Scotland

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Billy Casper, already the winner of two high-priced golf playoffs this year, went into a third one today with Gary Player in the Alcan Golfer of the Year Tournament which carries a $55,000 first prize.

"At least we're making a little bit of golf history," Casper said. Earlier this year, Casper beat Art Wall Jr., 1 a playoff in the Canadian Open, winning $50,000, and Al Gelberger in the $35,000 first prize Carling World Tournament.

Brewer and Casper tied Sunday with a 283 for the 72-hole title, five under par over the 6,926-yard, par 36-36-72 old course of St. Andrews. Casper remarked "We've never met head to head before in a playoff. And nobody's met in a playoff for such a big prize anywhere in the world."

Casper had a chance of closing it all out Sunday. He needed a birdie on the last hole to clinch the first prize. His approach was 20 feet away from the cup and he had a tricky downhill, curling putt.

He just missed sinking that one and took his par to tie Brewer.

Lions Director Nominee Visits Hope Club

Herman West, Searcy's nominee for Arkansas' director of Lions International, visited the Hope club at its luncheon Monday in the Town & Country restaurant.

Howard Hopkins, a former Searcy resident, introduced Mr. West, who gave an up-to-the-minute report on the Sight Conservation Center at Little Rock. He illustrated his talk with picture slides.

Luncheon guests were Past District Governor Bob Burns of Searcy, who is assisting Mr. West in his campaign; rev. Thomas Simmons, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, Jim Pruden, who spoke briefly in behalf of the United Fund; and Mrs. Elmer Wagner of McCaskill.

It has been reported that Chamberlain earned more than $200,000 last year in salary with the 76ers. He worked under a one year contract in 1966-67.

Chamberlain, who led the 76ers to the Eastern title over Boston and an eventual NBA championship victory over San Francisco, will be starting his ninth season in the league.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain finished third in the league scoring race after winning the title seven straight years, he sacrificed scoring for assists and rebounds in leading the 76ers to a record-breaking 63 victories during regular season play.

He still managed to score 1,950 points, paced the league in rebounds with 1,951, and set a club record of 655 assists, league mark for a center. He raised his career point total to over 23,000 and this year should hit the 25,000 mark.

Without diamonds many machine-age mass production processes would come to a halt. Bits of the gem are used to cut steel saw stone, shape bowling balls, polish dental fillings and play much of the world's recorded music.

Atlanta and Houston Get New Players

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Atlanta Braves have come up with a shortstop in Sonny Jackson and the Houston Astros have strengthened their pitching staff by acquiring left-handed Denny Lemaster.

The two National League clubs announced a four-player swap in the press box Sunday during the fourth World Series game.

In addition to Jackson, the Braves obtained first baseman Chuck Harrison, who already has been ticketed to the highest farm club of the International League.

Houston also got shortstop Denis Menke who had outlived his welcome with the Braves' management with a .227 season. Bill Giles, Houston vice president in charge of public relations, hinted the deal might be part of another swap by which Menke might move on to another club. He would not say what other team might be involved.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Wiley A. Branton, a high-ranking official in the anti-poverty program in Washington, said here Monday he did not think there would be any racial riots in Arkansas.

Branton, a Negro, is a native of Pine Bluff.

He told the Pine Bluff Junior Chamber of Commerce that there is great discrimination in the private rental and sale of housing at Pine Bluff and a definite need for better equal employment opportunities throughout the state. He pleaded for an end to discrimination against Negroes in Arkansas.

Break Near in Strike of Steel Trucks

By BEN DE FOREST
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — A high official said today behind-the-scenes maneuvering has brought progress in the violence-plagued steel haulers' rebellion.

Entering a negotiating session, William J. Hart, Pennsylvania secretary of labor and industry, declared: "When we left here last night we had nothing, absolutely nothing, to be optimistic about. Today, we'll have some good news."

He did not elaborate. Hart and governors' representatives of six other states met for the second day in a row trying to find a solution to independent steel haulers' revolt against the Teamsters Union.

The strikers want the union to negotiate a separate contract for independent steel haulers, granting higher pay and provisions that would pay for the time truckers wait at mill loading docks.

Shots were fired into two trucking firm buildings near Middletown, Ohio. Police said no one was injured in the shooting, which apparently came from passing cars.

Labor mediators sitting on the seven-state panel were to present recommendations to Teamsters officials and the striking truckers at today's session. The panel sat for 12 hours Monday, hearing both sides.

The strike by steel haulers who own their rigs has forced layoffs and a cutback in steel production and has been peppered with violence. Nonsteel hauling truckers stayed off the roads, in sympathy with the strikers or in fear of violence.

Pennsylvania state police reported 400 incidents, 28 arrests and dozens of injuries since the strike became violent about a month ago.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, Captain J. T. West was a spunky man. Back in 1876 he retired from successful Mississippi Boating business and moved to Hope, (a cabin boy under him was a youngster named Samuel L. Clemens whom the West nicknamed Mark Twain.)

In 1893 The Bank of Hope came into existence with spunky Captain West as its first president. Later known as the First National Bank of Hope, it still maintains the old rivermans aggressiveness and business institution.

Since opening the doors of its new building at Second and Walnut in 1959, First National has almost doubled its customer deposits, and grown into a financial institution offering a full range of services to all Southwest Arkansas. Maybe it's because the Spirit of spunky Captain West is still there.

Q—How does a limpet gather food into its mouth?
A—The mollusk does so by means of a long tongue, which is covered with rows of teeth.

Q—Why is the series of rapids in the Tennessee River given the name Muscle Shoals?
A—The name may come from "mussel," a variety of shellfish found in the region. Some people think it refers to the shape of the river, which is like the muscle in a man's arm.

"I don't know how you can call it an IDLE rumor—it's been MOVING like mad all over town!"

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Injury to Median Nerves
May Be Numbness Cause

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What would cause my hands to get numb? I am taking vitamin B-12. Will that help?
A—A common cause is pernicious anemia. If this is the cause, vitamin B-12 is the best treatment for both the anemia and the resulting numbness.

Q—What would cause my thumb and first two fingers of both hands to stay numb?
My doctor is giving me nicotinic acid but I don't seem to get any better.

A—An injury or disease involving your radial nerves would cause numbness of the back of your thumb, index, middle and half of your ring finger. This would be associated with some loss of muscle power. An injury to your median nerves would cause numbness of the palmar surface of these same fingers and a corresponding weakness.

The only other cause would be a disease that affects the blood vessels in the area involved. If your present treatment does not help you, you should consult a neurologist.

Q—A friend has a polyp in her nose and has to breathe through her mouth. Would an operation help her? Would having a lot of plants in the house aggravate the polyp?

A—House plants will not affect the polyp in any way.
The removal of nasal polyps is a relatively simple procedure but in some persons they keep recurring. In such cases it is necessary to remove the entire mucous lining of the nasal sinus that is involved.

Q—I have had several polyps removed from my lower bowel. Now they have found one in my colon. Do they ever disappear spontaneously? Is it necessary to have them removed?

A—Rectal polyps will not disappear by themselves.
Most polyps of the colon and rectum are benign and, as such, need not be removed unless they are a source of bleeding. If, however, there is any indication that they are malignant they should be removed without delay.

Q—Our doctor wants to remove a Baker's cyst from the back of both of my knees. I have pain in the knees when walking up stairs or getting up from a chair. Could this be caused by the cysts? Will the operation cure this condition?

A—This is a form of bursitis of the knee. It may cause redness, swelling and pain in this region. In a few victims the condition subsides spontaneously. In others an injection of thiopepa with hydrocorti-sone into the bursal sac effects a cure. This works better than hydrocortisone alone. If it doesn't work, the cyst must be removed sur-gically.

Republican
Backs LBJ
War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.
Hugh Scott, a Republican moderate, endorsed President Johnson's Vietnam policies today and said "it is imperative that we do not undermine the stature of the President as commander-in-chief and as the nation's chief diplomat."

He said the Republican party should not "misconceive its role as to become a 'peace at any price' party."

The Pennsylvania said he supports present policy because "I know of no better alternative."

His position contrasts with recent criticism of Johnson and his policies from such GOP moderates as Sens. Charles H.
Percy of Illinois, Thurston B.
Morton of Kentucky and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, and
Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

But it follows Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen's defense of Johnson policies and his recent warning against demeaning Johnson.

Scott's remarks were in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

Scott said charges of a credibility gap in administration statements on Vietnam "can be remedied by greater candor with the American people within the legitimate bounds of national security."

"Meanwhile, I reiterate my own trust and confidence in the President in his persecution of our basic strategy in Vietnam, because I know that he is not deliberately trying to deceive the American people on such a serious matter."

In a speech to a Democratic fund-raising dinner Saturday night, Johnson said he knows he could boost his popularity by adopting policies aimed at getting the United States "out of trouble cheaply and fast"—but he said they would be irresponsible.

"I do know that we are following the road of responsibility in Vietnam, as we are at home. I know probably as well as any man, save those who are fighting there at this hour, that it is a rough road to travel. But the road does lead to a free Asia—and a more secure America."

A former president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, said Saturday he is supporting a new organization called "Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam." He named former Illinois Sen. Paul H. Douglas as a prime organizer. Douglas said only that a policy statement has been signed by 40 to 50 persons but is not ready for release.

Eisenhower said signers include former Gen. Lucius Clay and Omar Bradley.
Another organization concerned with the war, Negotiation Now, heard former presidential aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr. call the U.S. military leadership in South Vietnam "as disastrous as any we have had in the life of our nation."

He said Sunday the administration is acting under the mistaken assumption that military men know how to win wars.

"There is not infallibility" about the Joint Chiefs of Staff,
he said. "I know what they recommended during great crises of the Kennedy administration—the Bay of Pigs, the Berlin crisis of 1961, the missile crisis of 1962, the test ban debate of 1963—and in each case their recommendations were plainly wrong."

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The

dogs, had a trap go astray.

Police said officials of the center obtained permission from the owners to place a $275

But the trap was stolen over-

National Newspaper Week

Bulletins from our trade associations remind your newspaper that after 51 weeks of plugging for other industries and businesses this at long last is National Newspaper Week.

If the celebration is somewhat subdued I think I know the reason why. Once upon a time some eager beaver put out a questionnaire asking the public what it thought about its newspaper. Well, he asked the public—and so the public told him. Since when there have been fewer eager beavers and absolutely no questionnaires.

The free press, of course, is one of America's basic institutions. It is the flag-carrier for freedom of speech and press and pulpit. It is unlicensed by government, depending for its livelihood upon the economy of its town and trade area rather than the favors of politicians.

In these troubled times the press should be—and tries to be—a dependable reporter of Truth and a fair critic of Government. One of the great publishing organizations has for its slogan: Give light and the people will find their own way.

Currently the American press is in an era of great physical change. Entire printing plants have been thrown out and replaced with costly new equipment. The offset system and process color are coming in everywhere. The Star introduced offset printing in 1955-56, and process color photographs this year.

If what we have to report isn't always sensational, at least there's never a dull moment about the manner in which we get the news out to you.

Voters Must O.K. Cutting of Millage

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A school district can not lower its millage unless the voters approve according to a ruling Monday by the attorney general's office.

Supt. O. M. Schultz of the Hulbert-West Memphis Schools asked for the opinion. He said the district was considering a plan of raising the assessed valuation of property without raising the tax burden any more than necessary.

The opinion also said the quorum court had no authority in the matter. Schultz asked if the quorum court could approve and levy a school tax less than the rate approved by the electors.

Bonds Set on Fake Driver Licenses

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — All but one of six persons who were booked in Little Rock municipal court for having fictitious driver licenses has been released on bonds ranging from $100 to $300 each.

State Police arrested the persons Sunday near the Arkansas Livestock Exposition grounds after checking vehicle registration and driver licenses as the exposition midway began leaving for another engagement.

A court docket showed Monday that Charles Peterbaugh of Minneapolis, Minn., was being held for further investigation.

The other five persons were identified as Loretta Jean Porter of Benton, Charles H. Poole of Tampa, Fla., Clarence L. Austin of Hot Springs, James Coleman of Van Buren and Herschel K. Watkins of Houma, La.

Stock Show Draws Record 243,311

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials of the Arkansas Livestock Exposition said Monday that the 1967 edition of the show drew a record 243,311 persons.

The record of 223,033 was set in 1952. A one-day record of 64,792 persons was set Friday. The exposition was open on Sunday for the first time this year.

Castro Aide May Be Dead in Bolivia

LA PAZ (AP) — The Bolivian army command withheld confirmation today of a local commander's report that Ernesto Che Guevara has been killed but planned to fly newsmen to the remote area where army dispatches said he died leading a guerrilla band.

The high command's invitation to the journalists suggested it would display a body reported to be that of Guevara, the leading theorist of Communist revolution in Latin America.

The former lieutenant of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba was reported killed Sunday in a clash at Higuera, about 400 miles southeast of La Paz. Col. Joaquin Zenteno Anaya, commander of the 8th Army in the area, said Guevara was one of a number of guerrilla casualties.

The army's chief of staff, Col. Marcos Vasquez Sempertegui, noted that official reports from Vallegrande, near Higuera, "affirm Guevara was killed and that his body is now with the Bolivian army." But he emphasized that he could not confirm the dispatches.

The official reports said: "The rebels put up desperate resistance and suffered five casualties, among them presumably Ernesto Che Guevara." Some military sources said Guevara was mortally wounded and talked to his captors before he died.

Guevara's legend has been sprinkled with reports of his death or capture since he mysteriously disappeared from Cuba in 1955. He was said to have died in the leftist revolt in the Dominican Republic, to have been captured in Peru, hiding out in his native Argentina, scouting the Congo and a visitor in Red China. Two weeks ago the Bolivian army denied a report that its forces had killed him.

At a meeting of the Organization of American States in Washington last month, Bolivian diplomats produced photographs of a man who looked like Guevara talking with Bolivian and Cuban guerrillas. They claimed the photos showed he was heading the rebels in Bolivia's isolated mountain regions.

Guevara's trailing as a guerrilla came in Castro's Sierra Maestra Mountain campaign that led to the overthrow of President Fulgencio Batista in January 1959.

Eileen Farrell: Her Cooking's Just as Good as Her Songs

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Eileen Farrell, whose voice has been termed "a Niagara of song," is an operatic star who enjoys her kitchen as much in her own kitchen as she does on stage.

"I've never served a packaged meal in my house," she said with warm pride. "I do think I'm a good cook. I bake my own bread. I suppose I'm not a good cake maker, but I'm a heck of a good pie maker."

All summer, as she has done for years, Miss Farrell spent happy quiet days cooking for her husband and two children at their Maine retreat, sometimes herself catching the fish she prepared for their dinner.

But now the nation's concert halls are calling her. Between October and next June she will give some 30 concerts and perhaps make a few television appearances.

At 47 the dramatic soprano is still in superb voice—and wants to stay that way. So she's lightening her schedule, despite the outcries and demurrers of program managers.

"You can only do what you're physically capable of," said Eileen, who likes for people to call her by her first name.

"I only want to do the roles that are to my advantage—that lie in my voice range and are good for me."

Eileen has always been one to go at her own pace. She first studied music under her mother,

No charges have been filed in connection with the death. The elder Clay is from Hunt, Va. James Clay is from Ellicott City, Md.

Season's Coldest Air Hits State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas' cool weather was reinforced today as a mass of cold air swept across the state, bringing the coldest air of the season into the state.

The cold air is expected to continue pouring in through Wednesday and temperatures could be even colder Wednesday night and Thursday morning. Frost was forecast for most sections of the state tonight.

No rainfall has occurred in the past 24-hours and the U.S. Weather Bureau said none is expected through Wednesday.

Temperatures were pleasant over Arkansas Monday, ranging from 65 at Blytheville to 75 at Fort Smith.

Overnight lows ranged from 32 degrees at Gilbert to 51 at Texarkana.

Panel Chosen to Test State Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Judge Harry A. Blackmun of Rochester, Minn., a member of the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis, and federal District Judge J. Smith Henley of Little Rock and Oren Harris of El Dorado were named Monday to conduct a hearing on the constitutionality of a state law.

Chief Judge Charles J. Vogel of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals named the three judges. He said the date for the hearing had not been set.

The Republican Party contends that Act 160 of 1937 violates the United States Constitution. Pros. Atty. Jeff Mobley of Russellville made use of the law to subpoena records of a party bank account.

Washington Antique Show Oct. 21-23

The annual antiques show and sale is fast becoming a tradition with Pioneer Washington. The fourth show will be held in the Old School Building Oct. 21, 22, and 23, the doors being open from 9 to 6.

Shoppers will be given an opportunity to study and enjoy the choice items of the arts and crafts of past generations. Dealers will have rare items of china, glass, furniture, prints, textiles, books, and many types of articles once used in the early homes of the past century. Jack Spates has arranged a display of original paintings, and an added attraction will be a group of local women engaged in an old fashioned quilting bee.

Display rooms are in a Georgian red brick building, in a charming setting of the Old South. Luncheon will be available in the building, and coffee breaks will be subject to command. A door prize a desirable antique will be presented each afternoon at 4:00.

In addition to the show, visitors will be given the opportunity to make tours to the various projects featured by the Foundation. These include the Blacker, a church organist. She sang over the Columbia Broadcasting System radio network for seven years before essaying operatic roles.

It wasn't until she was 40 that in 1960 she made her Metropolitan Opera debut in Gluck's "Alceste." But her long and arduous preparation paid off. The audience rewarded her with an ovation and summoned her back for 22 curtain calls.

Having graduated from popular music herself, Eileen has a sympathetic feeling for today's young pop singers, some of whom she feels are ruining their voices by overstraining them as the result of poor vocal techniques.

"I'd like to teach them—to be helpful to them," she said. "Ten years from now they won't be singing because their voices will be gone. But, with help, 10 years from now they could still be singing as well as ever."

"The voice isn't simply an instrument you carry around with you. You're dealing with something that is alive and has to be taken care of."

This is her advice to any youngster aspiring to an operatic career.

"Don't try it at all unless you are willing to do the hard work involved and sacrifice many personal pleasures. Life doesn't just dump success in your lap. It may give you a marvelous break, but once you've achieved success the hardest work of all begins—to stay successful."

Road Funds to Be Test for 'Economy'

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The extent to which members of Congress, many of whom have called for cutbacks in federal spending, want to practice economy in politically sensitive areas is getting a good test this week.

If their reaction is anything like that of the nation's governors, outraged protest is likely to ring out on Capitol Hill.

The Johnson administration asked the 50 governors to comment on what would happen if up to half their federal highway funds were held back. Virtually all governors responding so far have strongly protested such a move would cripple their road programs.

The administration is under congressional pressure to cut federal budget spending by about $5 billion if it wants to see its 10 per cent income tax surcharge bill passed. Holding back the highway money wouldn't affect the budget since the funds are held in a separate pool of gas tax revenue which cannot be spent for any other purpose. But withholding the funds could have a dampening effect on the economy.

Congressional reaction to cutbacks is likely to emerge when Congress takes up this week three items that reach into every state and every congressional district—public works, military construction and the pay of federal workers.

In the first such test, the Senate rejected 60 to 12 Monday a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Dele., to cut back new starts in the public works program. Debate continues today on the $4.7 billion measure, which includes funds for the Atomic Energy Commission as well as the so-called "pork barrel" projects.

Williams said his proposed cut would have affected about $395 million in projects.

The House, meanwhile, takes up a budget-busting omnibus measure to raise postal rates and the pay of federal employees. Final action is expected Wednesday on the measure, which eventually could cost three times as much as the new revenue it will produce.

The House Armed Services Committee planned to question Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today about a 30-day Pentagon freeze announced last week on nearly $350 million earmarked for military construction projects.

Two House Appropriations subcommittees planned to meet to see where money earlier appropriated for Treasury-Post Office and legislative affairs can now be rescinded.

Nixon and Rockefeller Top GOP List

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has topped a nationwide Associated Press poll of Republican leaders who were asked to name their favorite for the GOP presidential nomination next.

However, the strongest potential ticket would be composed of Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California, those participating in the survey replied. A Nixon-Reagan combination ran second.

Associated Press bureaus submitted a three-part questionnaire to the state chairmen and members of the GOP National Committee in all 50 states. About half replied.

The questions and results were:

1. Whom do you favor for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination?

Nixon—46 per cent
Gov. George Romney—26
Rockefeller—14
Reagan—7
Others—7

2. Which Republican has the best chance of defeating President Johnson?

Nixon—41 per cent
Rockefeller—25
Romney—23
Reagan—11

3. What combination of candidates for president and vice president would offer the strongest ticket?

Rockefeller—40 per cent
Nixon-Reagan—25
Nixon-Sen. Charles Percy—11
Romney-Reagan—11
Others—13

As expected, much of Nixon's support came from Republican leaders in the South and Southwest but he had votes in some Midwest and Far Western states as well.

Some of those who participated in the survey indicated that while they consider Nixon the GOP's best qualified candidate, they have misgivings as to whether he can win. He lost the presidential election in 1960 and the race for governor of California in 1962.

Said Idaho State Chairman John McMurray, "They (Idaho working Republicans) still have reservations. If he shows well in the early primaries Nixon will be hard to stop."

Similarly, Mrs. J. C. Mann, Texas national committeewoman, said she considers Nixon the "best qualified" and that she has strongly supported him before. She added, "But I want somebody to win this time. I don't believe that the people who go to conventions and choose candidates are always representative of the way the people feel who will be voting."

A significant result of the poll was Reagan's strong showing. He was mentioned many more times than any other potential candidate as the choice for the vice presidential nomination.

Rockefeller and Reagan have both said they are not candidates. Teaming, some of those questioned said, would give the party a balanced ticket which would appeal to both the conservatives and moderates.

Rockefeller ran ahead of Gov. George Romney of Michigan—whom he supports for the nomination—in answers to the question of which Republican would stand the best chance of beating the President, in some replies, GOP chiefs indicated they felt Romney's "brainwashing" statement may have cost him some support.

Said the chairman of a New England state, who asked not to be identified, "We are still with Romney. If he doesn't join, I would favor Rockefeller."

Among those mentioned for the vice presidential nomination were Sens. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, John C. Tower of Texas and Mark Hatfield of Oregon, along with Govs. James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Claude Kirk Jr. of Florida.

A Nixon aide, former Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon, said recently Nixon will enter primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Indiana and Oregon.

Missile Assembly Destroyed in Raid by American Planes

By GEORGE MGARTHUR
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American Navy planes today attacked and left burning a sprawling military compound near Haiphong where Russian missiles and helicopters are uncrated and assembled.

It was likely that Soviet technicians work in the base, which previously was on the Pentagon's restricted target list.

U.S. headquarters said all-weather intruder jets hit the base before dawn Monday and returned for a second predawn strike Tuesday. Pilots reported that flames and secondary explosions lit the night sky.

Heavy new strikes on North Vietnam and the loss of an American jet to a Communist MIG21 in a dogfight was paralleled by sharp ground fighting and the movement of more American troops north to meet the threat of renewed North Vietnamese attacks below the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Command also announced that a U.S. Air Force C130 transport with a crew of five and 18 passengers has been missing between Da Nang and Hue since Sunday. All 19 passengers are believed to be American servicemen, the headquarters said.

The U.S. Command said a 4,000-man Army brigade has been shifted into the 1st Corps

State GOP Nat'l Choice Is Unknown

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' top Republicans, led by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, remain staunchly noncommittal on their choice for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

National Committeewoman Lillian McGillicuddy of Little Rock and state Chairman Odell Pollard of Searcy, however, say they believe President Johnson can be defeated by any one of the four prominently mentioned candidates — Govs. George Romney of Michigan, Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

And Rockefeller, the national committeeman, says the President's popularity has sunk to a losing low in Arkansas.

Rockefeller, Pollard and Mrs. McGillicuddy, however, refuse to say whom they favor because they don't want to become involved in pre-convention politicking that might disrupt party harmony.

40 of 42 on Board Sinking Ship Are Lost

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A Japanese merchant ship was reported today to have rescued at least two of the 42 crewmen who leaped into the icy waters of the North Pacific when their ship, the Panoceanic Faith, sank suddenly Monday.

The fate of the 40 other men was not known. There were fears they could not survive long in the cold, storm-tossed waters.

The Coast Guard said reports from the merchant ship Igaharu Maru at the search scene 870 miles southwest of Kodiak, Alaska, told of the dramatic rescue of Gordon L. Campbell, Oakland, Calif., and Lewis E. Gray Jr., Houston, Texas.

In New York, the ship's owners said they were told that John F. Ogles of Alexandria, Va., captain of the sunken vessel, also was rescued, but the Coast Guard could not confirm this.

The Igaharu Maru also radioed that "some bodies" had been picked up.

The Panoceanic Faith sank suddenly shortly before dark Monday after sending out a distress call for "immediate assistance." It reported it was taking water in the forward hold, was listing to starboard, and was encountering engine trouble.

The Coast Guard said it had no information as to what had caused the 459-foot ship to take on water. But the distress call told of battling 15-to-18-foot high seas and winds of 35-45 knots.

Navy, Coast Guard and other North Pacific seafarers estimated a person rarely survives more than an hour in the cold water without proper clothing. They said the cold saps the body temperature away within minutes.

The Coast Guard said the sinking was so sudden the crewmen did not have time to launch the ship's two lifeboats or two life rafts.

A Navy search plane from Adak, Alaska, and a C140 Military Air Command jet Starlifter dropped seven small rubber life rafts to the crewmen bobbing around in life jackets, the Coast Guard said.

The pilot of the Navy plane radioed that he saw several men climb into the tiny craft.

Both planes remained in the area to direct rescue operations of at least a half dozen ships headed for the scene, including the Coast Guard cutters Dexter and Storis.

Another Coast Guard C130 rescue plane from Hawaii was en route with survival gear.

The Pan-Oceanic Faith first radioed a distress call at 2:55 P.M., saying 20-foot waves were sweeping over her decks and filling No. 1 and No. 2 holds with water.

Scholarships Announced by Gen'l Motors

General Motors recently announced the continuation of its Scholarship Plan by making available 300 scholarships to outstanding secondary school graduates for the fall of 1968 at more than 200 colleges and universities. The awards will be made to entering freshmen and may be renewed through the normal four undergraduate years for those with satisfactory records.

Seniors at Yerger High School and Hope High School may apply.

General Motors established its Scholarship Plan in 1955 with the guidance of leading educators. Its purpose was to help bring to the fore young men and women with the ability and potential for making substantial contributions in many fields to the security and progress of the United States and the world. Since that time, General Motors has helped some 5,000 able students to go to college, including 1,460 currently enrolled.

There have been eight graduating classes of GM scholars to date, numbering 3,450 scholars. Over 80 percent graduated in the top quarter of their classes, over half of whom finish.
